

Habitat for Humanity

Habitat for Humanity-Sauk/Columbia and Thrivent Builds had a very good year in 2012. A home was built in Wyocena. It was done during an extreme heat wave with the most volunteers ever used for a build. Because of all the hard work by those volunteers in not only building, but also fund raising and feeding the workers, we had one of our most successful years financially. Please join us in Rio in 2013 as we build another home. Help us give a family in our area a better chance at economic independence. Volunteer for a day and change a life—maybe even your own. To volunteer, contact Bill Schleichert at 608-697-4434 or fatkat@centurytel.net.

Habitat for Humanity of Dane County builds approximately 16-18 homes each year. We build all over Dane County and will be active in the following communities in 2013: Madison, Sun Prairie, Fitchburg, Verona, Middleton, Brooklyn, and Stoughton (starting in Fall of 2013). We build four days a week, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday. We ask for full day commitments whenever possible from 8:15 to 3:30. We look for groups of no more than eight people. We provide all the tools, safety equipment, and site supervision necessary for the work day. We also have a group of mostly retired men and women who volunteer with us each Wednesday.

We will have one Thrivent Build in 2013 and that will begin this Spring in our Fitchburg location. Groups or individuals who want to volunteer with Habitat for Humanity of Dane County should contact Megan Kenney at 608-255-1549 ext. 104 or mkenney@habitatdane.org.
