DESCRIPTION OF OFFERING:

Circling" into the 21st Century.

Ladies' circles have long formed the backbone of many Lutheran congregations. In place of these small associations of like-minded women, consider launching a women's group with a broad vision that transcends definitions of age, interest, and experience. Young women and old, corporate leaders and stay-at-home moms all find themselves on an equal footing as they ponder common spiritual issues in deep and prayerful conversation. Forging and strengthening relationships in such an inclusive context will bring new life to your congregation. This presentation proposes strategies for forming, leading and sustaining such groups.
